

Research Fellow

The Society & Organizations (S&O) Institute at HEC Paris invites applications for two post-doctoral or more senior research positions beginning in August or September 2022.

We are seeking candidates with doctoral training and a strong research orientation in the areas of behavioral economics, strategy, finance, accounting, and/or psychology, and whose research relates to one of the following two areas: (1) behavioral change, managerial practices, and societal impact (with a focus on leveraging an experimental approach to advance our understanding); and (2) social impact measurement and monetization. A background in behavioral decision research or social psychological research is a plus. Knowledge of French is not required. All applicants must have a Ph.D. (or be close to completion).

The positions are offered for two years (fixed term contract). The Appointees will be based at the S&O Institute. The Appointee with special research interests in social impact measurement and monetization will also work in synergy with the Entrepreneurship and Innovation Centre at HEC Paris. In addition to carrying out independent research, the Appointees will be encouraged to collaborate with one or more faculty members.

The deadline for submitting the complete application package is March 31st, 2022.

Application materials should be sent (as PDF attachments) to the Recruiting Committee at: sno-applications@hec.fr with Application S&O post-doctoral research position as the subject of the email. Applicants should send their cover letter, CV, sample publications or working papers, a statement of research interests. Three letters of reference should be sent directly to the Recruiting Committee.
